Advisory: website build quotes from US developers

Technical advisory from now until 15 December 2026, to get your website rebuild properly priced: a clear brief, the right US developers asked, and three comparable quotes in hand, with a recommendation on which to take.

DELIVERABLES

2 × Next.js + Sanity quotes	Two written quotes from US-based developers or studios for building the site on Next.js with Sanity as the content editor.
1 × WordPress quote	One written quote from a US-based developer or studio for building the same site on WordPress.
The brief	One build brief, sent to all three, so the quotes cover the same scope and can be compared like for like.
Comparison and recommendation	A side-by-side of price, timeline, what each includes and leaves out, and the running costs of each platform, with my recommendation.
Advisory until 15 December	Calls and messages as needed through the period: questions on the quotes, the developers and the choice between platforms.

NOT INCLUDED

- Building, designing or hosting the website
- Managing the chosen developer once the build starts
- The developers' own fees, which are agreed directly between you and them
